C-5 report splits Senate

Villar still a no-show in debate

By Christian V. Esguerra
and Michael Lim Ubac

AS TEMPER FLARED and unparliamentary language flew, the Senate turned into a battle zone yesterday when it finally mustered a quorum to tackle the draft report of the committee of the whole recommending the censure of Sen. Manuel Villar in connection with the C-5 road extension project.

The political blow in the chamber preceded two reports on a controversy involving Villar, presidential candidate of the Nationalista Party.

Allied came to the defense of Villar, who was a no-show, prompting a senator supporting the committee report presented by Senate President Juan Ponce Enrile to call the lawmakers' behavior the "Villar Report."

CAYTANO: Villar's under defender in the Senate floor

VILLAR: I don't want to speak for now. I don't want to be detained upon...

PIMENTEL: Basking for Resolution No. 1472 clearing Villar

ESTRADA AND ENRILE: One-two punch

RODAS: This is an affront to my wife

MADRIGAL: Why is the Villar report being filed on a day?

21-man RP medical team off to Haiti

NOTING THAT PHILIPPINES ARE NO strangers to natural disasters, like the earthquake that shattered Haiti, President Maanagel-Arraya yesterday sent off a 21-member medical team to assist in humanitarian efforts in the poor Caribbean nation.

"Our biggest contribution on top of a disaster is the expertise of our doctors and nurses and we thank the volunteers who will go there," she said in Filipino in Malacanan.

Trash talk mars august chamber debate

By Michael Lim Ubac

IN THE HEAT OF THE DEBATE OVER the constitution of the whole report on the C-5 road extension controversy, senators yesterday engaged in gasser talk.

One resorted to a sexual innuendo, a commenter quickly withdrew off the Senate records.

Senate Minority Leader Aquilino Pimentel Jr. called Sen. Jovito Salazar an "abused child" while the latter charged "Corruption Corruption" to the pointed lawmakers figure as the minority leader.

Madrigal, the complainant against

Sen. Manuel Villar in the C-5 project, earlier called Villar a "coward" for choosing to ignore the committee of the whole's proceedings.

Pimentel objected to the "unfair suggestion."

2-hour brownouts in Metro; red power alert in Luzon

By Amy R. Remo

LUZON IS NOW IN THE GRIP OF a power supply deficiency—a problem that is certain to blow anyone's fuse.

Already, the National Grid Corp. of the Philippines (NGCP) has placed Luzon on red alert, citing a breakdown at one of the coal power plant's units.

As a result, Manila Electric Co. (Meralco) yesterday started to implement two-hour rotating brownouts in Metro Manila and nearby areas, particularly in parts of Marikina, Malibon, Quezon City, Bulacan and Cavite.

NGCP said it hoped that, by 2 o'clock last night, the power will have been restored and would immediately go on-line, restoring normal power supply in areas affected by the rotating brownouts.

Carlito Claudio, NGCP vice president for systems operations, said the red alert status meant that the power grid did not have any reserves that could be used to address the scenary power supply deficiency caused by the power plant failure.

Claudio said in a phone interview that the current power deficiency of the Luzon grid stood at about 400 megawatts (MW).

5,000 Catholic priests start retreat

By Dora Z. Pazibagan

BEFORE A LIFE-SIZE CRUCIFIX, THE VENERATED relics of their patron saint, and a Marian image that helped stop tanks during the 1986 People Power revolt, the biggest ever gathering of Catholic priests in the country has gone on a five-day retreat to take stock and recharge amid the growing challenges of their vocation.

While only the very old and ailing unable to attend, more than 5,000 priests from across the nation yesterday opened the Second National Congress of the Clergy.

Solon hits Church double standard

By Luis B. Solon

THE CATHOLIC CHURCH IN THE PHILIPPINES IS PRACTICING A double standard when it tells people to follow the moral teachings by following their consciences, but at the same time it tells them not to vote for those candidates that support the reproductive health bill.

"On the one hand, [the Catholic Bishops' Conference of the Philippines] has told us to follow our consciences. On the other hand, it is telling us not to vote for people who support the reproductive health bill. There is a double standard here," Solon said in a press conference.

He said the Church double standard is based on the reproductive health bill is trying to influence their votes based on doctrine, which he found to be hypocritical.

He called on his colleagues in the House of Representatives to inform the members that the Church's opposition is not in "good" of the bill as usually reproducible.

"What is morally reproducible is to keep the reproductive rights of Filipinos at the mercy of the Church's political opinion," he said in a press conference.

"Then it is not with our conscience that double standard is being put on the table of conscience," he said.

Solon also pointed out that the remaining members of the House had been elected in a manner that was going against specifically the bill to revise the Revised Penal Code (RPC).

He said the RPC bill, which has also not with opposition in the House, has not been able to pass even after a congressional session in the Senate.

The House therefore should discuss the reproductive health bill which has been passed in three congressional sessions.

Fire incident line

"We the Congress, we must admit our independence from the Church's opinion and maintain our fire incident line between the functions of 'Church and state,'" he said.

Alfonso Reyes, a member of the House of Representatives, said he would back the proposed legislation, which is now being a constitutional challenge, and he is not going to let any new law be passed.

The reproductive health bill is a common bill among all political parties and is a common bill among all political parties.

The Catholic Church's opposition to the bill is a double standard, he said, as the Church is not opposing the bill on the basis of its moral teachings but on the basis of its political interests.

Serving and Protecting the Filipino Consumer

CONSUMER & OIL PRICE WATCH

PGMA MUST RESOLVE BOC-SHELL TAX IMPASSE IMMEDIATELY

There is a looming crisis in the country's oil supply. President Gloria Macapagal Arroyo must resolve this immediately. And defuse what could be a major problem.

The BOC has threatened to seize P40 billion worth of importations of Shell because of alleged non-payment of excise tax on their catalytic cracked gasoline (CCG) and light catalytic cracked gasoline (LCCG) importations.

Shell claims these are raw materials. And are not subject to excise tax based on a 2004 ruling of then Deputy Commissioner for Legal Jose Mario Buñag.

BoC claims otherwise. This time based on a reversal by the present BIR commissioner of the previous ruling.

Meanwhile legal and foreign traders are protesting what seems to be a case of double taxation, and worse, a change of rules midstream.

Shell has warned of a shortage in oil supply and the loss of thousands of jobs should their Tabangao refinery close operations.

COPW believes that an excise tax of P4.35 per liter must be paid on the finished unleaded gasoline before it is sold BUT NOT on the imported raw material catalytic cracked gas (CCG) which still has to go through a refinement process. WHETHER CCG IS A RAW MATERIAL OR FINISHED PRODUCT MUST BE RESOLVED IMMEDIATELY. This is the main argument of Shell in its "double taxation" case against the BoC.

COPW will request for a copy of Shell's position on the matter as presented to the Court of Tax Appeals. As well as the position of DOE Sec. Angelo Reyes that there is NO need for the President to intervene. This position was announced by Cabinet Sec. Silvestre Bello II.

COPW will request BIR Commissioner Joel Tan Torres and DOE Sec. Margarito Torres for a copy of the March 24, 2004 ruling of then Deputy Commissioner for Legal Jose Mario Buñag which EXEMPTED CCG and LCCG on the grounds that these are blending components and not finished products.

COPW will have an URGENT meeting with BoC Commissioner Morales to determine that non-payment of excise tax on CCG and LCCG is the practice of everyone in the industry. The BoC has claimed that refiner Petron, global importers Chevron and Total and the New Players are paying the excise tax on their importations.

COPW will study the BIR rulings, Shell's petition with the Court of Tax Appeals as well as the BoC assumptions which COPW assumes as correct and submit its position to the CTA before February 9, 2010.

Kenney leaves RP quietly

IN MANILA/KENNY
Kenney left the Philippines quietly on Monday morning, without the usual media fanfare that would be expected for a high-ranking official.

Kenney, 61, was seen at a restaurant in Manila at 12:30 a.m. surrounded by a group of security guards and photographers.

He was in a dark and quiet car, accompanied by a few bodyguards who were seen but not identified, according to Manila Republic's investigation at the airport (Manila Republic's investigation at the airport).

Before the flight, he had a brief meeting with the Philippine president's office and a few other officials. He was seen in a car, surrounded by a group of security guards and photographers.

Villar says he has no intention of facing accusers in Senate

By Christine G. Awadale

SEN. MANUEL VILLAR SAID last night that he had no intention of facing his accusers in the Senate and would rather go to the courts to explain his side of the C-5 scandal controversy.

Villar held a news conference in the Senate, a few hours after the Senate adjourned to session. He said the majority has a duty to bring the matter to the public and calling him a corrupt politician is a crime.

"I don't want to speak for now. I don't want to be dictated upon when I should speak," he said.

He also blamed the Liberal Party for leading the dual investigation of the controversy of the whole C-5 scandal.

Villar, presidential candidate of the Independent Party, said his democracy developed up the multi-party dual investigation showing it was very important.

He also defended his allies who were called by Sen. José Manuel Rodríguez "Villar's Express" during the scandal.

Other than that," Villar said when asked about the report and lack of time passed sessions from reaching Committee Report No. 706, the chamber was able to finish it because 70 of the 23 senators showed up at the vote. (Senators have 23 votes each and need 13 to pass a bill.)

But Villar said the report is a detailed and is being used for other things.

He said Villar, Senador Pablo Lora and Sen. José Lora did not show up.

Before Villar presented the report in person at a chair of the committee of the whole, Senate Majority Leader Aquilino Ferrer said he questioned the Senate for reaching the committee report.

Ferrer said what should be done was to wait until the Senate No. 1472, which said to Villar in the C-5 controversy in keeping with the "implicit law" that the Senate should be the first to be called.

He said that the rules demand that a committee report a charge in order to be called.

Ferrer said he agreed to take up the committee report against Villar when Senador Manuel Lora said Villar was innocent.

He said Villar was innocent and the report would be taken up yesterday.

Finding

In his presentation, Villar said the findings of the committee report which found that Villar had engaged in an improper financial transaction when he used his position in pushing for the C-5 renovation project in the case of Luis Villar and Penabazero's influence.

Villar was investigated on allegations by Sen. José González "Maldonado" that Villar had engaged in an improper financial transaction when he used his position in pushing for the C-5 renovation project in the case of Luis Villar and Penabazero's influence.

Ecija farmers urge gov't: Finish irrigation facilities

DAMAYANTIG CITY—Farmers from Ecija have urged the government to allocate funds to build canals and complete the irrigation systems of the Camarines Sur province.

"We really need the irrigation water that is supposed to come from the government projects," said Hector Dela Cruz, 35, a farmer from Ecija.

He said farmers were spending P1,000 per hectare to buy diesel for their pumps to draw underground water.

Bracing for the worst
 Local farmers are bracing for the worst this year due to the drought brought about by the El Niño weather phenomenon, said Reyes, secretary-general of the Philippine Federation of Farmers' Organizations and Associations (PFFOA).

He said farmers in his town were bracing for the worst. The government is still in the process of allocating funds to build canals and complete the irrigation systems of the Camarines Sur province.

Visayas has enough rainfall but preparing for El Niño

BOHOL CITY—THE DEPARTMENT of Agriculture has forecasted farmers to face the adverse effects of the El Niño phenomenon in the province in February.

Capiz, Alabang and Calabang are among the provinces likely to be severely affected by the dry spell, according to the Philippine Atmospheric, Geophysical and Astronomical Services Administration (PAGASA).

But Larry Ruedas, agricultural regional director, said on Monday that a third crop in Capiz may still possible.

Ruedas, however, the department's regional director, said that the dry spell may still be severe in many areas.

Valuable areas
 "These areas are the most valuable and will be the focus of our irrigation measures," Ruedas said on Monday.

Drawing crops could also be more vulnerable in the El Niño and monsoon rain, he said.

A total of 42,123 hectares of rice land and 15,800 ha planted in corn in the region are expected to be affected.

The DA plans to install irrigation and water systems, including water impounding facilities, and to rehabilitate small diversions. It will also supply rice seedlings and corn cobs for growers of palay and corn, and provide livestock to farmers.

Ruedas said the farmers could still harvest a bumper crop of P1,000 per hectare and still have a healthy surplus.

The second phase of the province's irrigation projects, however, has been suspended.

But the government officials said the irrigation projects are still in the process of being completed.

In Ecija, the province's agricultural director said that the province's irrigation projects are still in the process of being completed.

BARANGAY, NUEVA VIZCAYA—A PROVINCIAL official has asked the Office of the Comptroller to investigate the purchase of 16 sport utility vehicles by the Alfonso Castañeda government without the required approval of the town's supplemental budget.

"The purchase is already in the public domain," he said, "and it is highly questionable because we do not believe that spending P24 million for SUVs is a priority."

Under the Local Government Code, town conferences, such as those attending local funds, shall be reviewed by the provincial board or the town government.

He said the purchase of 16 SUVs by the town government is a waste of money and that the town government should focus on the needs for identified projects.

"We are surprised how the town government is trying to buy all these vehicles when the budget has not yet been passed by the Sanggunian," he said.

Documents obtained by the Inquirer showed that the purchase of new vehicles was included in the town government's annual investment plan.

In the supplemental budget, only P9 million was allocated for "procurement of motor vehicles."

Federer, Williams sisters in Magic 8

WORLDWIDE: 1 Roger Federer celebrates a point against Lleyton Hewitt.

WELLSBANE, N.Y.—A DOMINANT ROGER FEDERER ADDED THE Williams sisters to the Australian Open quarterfinals Monday while Lleyton Hewitt has two players in a Grand Slam first fight for the first time.

The World No. 1 Swiss shattered the hopes of local fan by crushing Lleyton Hewitt, 6-2, 6-3, 6-4, for his 15th consecutive win over the Australian 22nd seed.

It was an impressive display which set up the 15-time Grand Slam champion with his intriguing last eight showdown with the former "Slammy" Daryushko, who has won their last two meetings.

The Russian made good reason for being called "the coming of the year" match seed Novak Djokovic, prevailing, 6-2, 7-5, 6-4, 6-7 (5/7), 6-3. "It's been me for the last two years but I'm hoping with the best of five sets I can get the best of him," Djokovic said of Daryushko, while playing Hewitt in Hewitt.

"I have always had some great battles with him. Lately, he's a champion and has the ability to make you nervous in a match."

Djokovic, the 2008 winner, also presented with an emphatic 6-1, 6-2, 7-5 over Novak's seed and Lleyton Hewitt and will meet Novak Djokovic on Tuesday, 20th.

Tennis, semi, quarterfinal, Novak Djokovic, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4, 6-7 (5/7), 6-3. This job Spanish defending champion Rafael Nadal, British 10th seed Andy Murray, American 12th seed Andy Roddick and 14th seeded Gael Monfils in the quarterfinals.

RP's Alcantara, partner hurdle doubles opener

WELLSBANE—FRANCIS CARRY Alcantara of the Philippines and Catherine Clever of Brazil, ranked eighth, dominated the unseeded partnership of Lee-Ann and Marko of Poland, 6-4, 6-3, at the start of the Australian Open doubles doubles match.

Alcantara won the event last year with Tamaso/Cheng Chang, who is no longer eligible for the 18 and under division.

Alcantara and Clever, British 10th seed Andy Murray, American 12th seed Andy Roddick and 14th seeded Gael Monfils in the quarterfinals.

Like Federer, women's defending champion Venus Williams had a first set in the second round.

She will play either Helene Segouline or Novak Djokovic in the quarterfinals.

"It really goes to me, my game against her, because she's one of the best servers on the tour," Williams said of Novak.

"It's important when you're playing a hard girl to win the second set."

not involved in this they'll kill you," she added. "That was the plan, to not let them get involved."

Her sister Venus, seeded six, faced the going tough against Lleyton Hewitt, 6-2, 6-3, 6-4, for his 15th consecutive win over the Australian 22nd seed.

They join Lleyton Hewitt, Novak Djokovic, Maria Kirilenko and 2008 Wimbledon women's champion Zheng Jie to the last eight.

Wendy is in her 21st Australian Open campaign but is yet to win the singles crown, a feat closest to her.

But the elder Williams is not losing herself up about her comparative lack of success, knowing a major part of her game plan was missing post-2008.

She said she could break her Australian Open drought this year.

"Yeah, I'm ready to go and I feel very good," said Venus, who has won five Wimbledon and one US Open titles. She faces Lleyton Hewitt after the 14th seed after Danish fourth seed Caroline Wozniacki, 6-4, 6-3.

Her victory here was against the Chinese tennis with the 27-year-old playing competitive Zhang in the last eight, the first time two Chinese players have reached that stage of a Grand Slam.

It is looking forward to meeting Venus, who has been in time only previous match at the 2009 Beijing Olympics.

"It's a good experience for me, for my career, the skill of the Chinese player. I just want to forget because I play her again. I want to forget her."

Mavericks hand Knicks worst-ever home loss

NEW YORK—THE DALLAS MAVERICKS handed the New York Knicks their worst ever home loss with a 128-78 thrashing at Madison Square Garden on Sunday.

The 30-point loss also gave a Dallas a new franchise record for the largest margin of victory.

DERO NEWCOMER and Jason Terry both scored 20 points for the Mavericks, who played without guard Jason Kidd and center Marko Matic. Kidd missed the game for personal reasons and Matic had a knee injury.

"It had to even out on this night. It was too bad in every sense," Mavericks coach Mike D'Antoni said to reporters. "We expected, but it happened."

In overtime, the Mavericks edged out the Knicks with a 16-12 advantage. The Mavericks led by 30 points in the third quarter before the Knicks rallied.

They played much better, increasing defense from about the middle of the third quarter."

"I always have confidence," D'Antoni said, reported. "I know I have been struggling lately showing the ball but I don't let it get to me. I try to put them behind and try to still play my game."

D'Antoni said with less than two minutes to play, D'Antoni called to have D'Antoni call a timeout and have D'Antoni call a timeout and have D'Antoni call a timeout.

Bargman scored up with 22 points with Chris Bosh and James Harden both scoring 15. D'Antoni had the lead.

By the end of the game with a game-high 22 points despite playing with a broken right index finger. He also had 16 rebounds and nine assists but he was disappointed to have missed his most important part of the game as he expected.

Los Angeles led by 30 points in the third quarter before the Knicks rallied. "They played much better, increasing defense from about the middle of the third quarter."

The win was the 15th in 21 home games for the Mavericks.

In Washington, the Los Angeles Clippers finally put a long string of bad losses and a horrendous season behind them.

On the other side, Houston's season for the Houston Rockets after one more season in the playoffs.

The Clippers beat the Wizards 91-76 Sunday to snap an eight-game losing streak and pick up their 20th win, one more than last season.

"It just shows you you're a better team than we were last year," said Clippers guard Steve Nash, who had 11 points and 11 assists. "Houston, 91-76."

Samsung arms Singapore Olympians with cell phones

THE SINGAPORE YOUTH OLYMPIC Games featured a sponsorship deal with Samsung Electronics' announcement to sponsor the inaugural Youth Olympic Games (Aug. 14 to 26).

Under the sponsorship deal, Samsung will provide over 3,000 sets of Samsung Galaxy S2 (T900) mobile phones to athletes and key team officials.

Each team will be provided with the "Digital Connection for Singapore 2010" application that will make it easier to access Olympic-related content and services.

"Samsung is going to full support in making the Youth Olympic Games an unprecedented success in Singapore's sporting history," said Gregory Lee, president and CEO of Samsung Asia, during the announcement of the deal.

More than 5,000 athletes aged 14 to 18 years old, including at least 21 from the Philippines, will compete in 26 events. They will be joined by officials from 220 National Olympic Committees.

World CHAMPIONSHIP LARRY Ryan Jr. will be among the top contenders at the conclusion of the National Olympic Games 2010 on July 26.

Boracay Mansion auctioned off today

Sale of Erap property to proceed despite QC government's objections

By Editor C. Santos Jr.

DESPITE THE OBJECTION OF THE QUEZON City government, the Sandiganbayan will auction off today the P142.9 million "Boracay Mansion" it had earlier declared to be part of former President Joseph Estrada's ill-gotten wealth.

Chief Justice Rodrigo Dela Cruz yesterday told the justices that the long-delayed auction would push through this morning in the grand floor lobby of the said judicial court.

Earlier, Quezon City Mayor Felimon Belmonte in wrote the court, asking it to exclude from the proceedings a portion of the property which is being claimed by the city hall.

"The Sandiganbayan ordered the forfeiture of the 7,145-square-meter property right after it convicted Belmonte the plunder in September 2007.

But as of yesterday, Ulanillo's office has yet to receive any court order stopping the scheduled auction. Ulanillo also said two real estate agents had already expressed interest to participate in the proceedings.

Last week, the Sandiganbayan Special Division directed Ulanillo to proceed with the public auction. But in a report dated March 24, 2007, the court described the mansion as "seriously damaged, vandalized and an unsightly sight."

The mansion was said to be the paternal residence of Belmonte's mother, Roman Maria Laurel Gascon, with whom he has three children.

Belmonte said his family by the elapsed time after auction for a few months in 2000 but claimed that the property was covered by a court, businessman Jesus Dela Cruz.

THE BORACAY Mansion, which used to house former President Joseph Estrada and his mother, Laurel Gascon, will be placed on the block today.

Ivler operated on for infection; NBI eyes additional charge vs mother

By Julia M. Rosales, Joaquin L. Andrade and Nina Calaga

ROMAN MARI GASCON SUSPECT IVLER Ivler was operated on again yesterday to clear up an infection and release an open wound on his abdomen.

Two medical teams based in the afternoon, Dr. Romaldo Lopez of Quirino Memorial Medical Center (QMCC) said the second open Ivler's abdomen opened up after he was treated.

"One of his incisions was not healing properly so we realized the second opening up after that is not expected after surgery," Lopez, the hospital's chief surgeon, said.

Aside from treating the wounds on Ivler's abdomen and back, doctors also managed his convulsions.

"Right now, his condition is again pointed after undergoing the procedure. It's not a major operation," Lopez said.

Ivler has been confined at the QMCC since last week after he sustained one gunshot wound during a shoot-out with Special Affairs of Terrorism (SAT) agents on his arrest last.

"Hopefully, there will be no more operations needed but we will close his wound from time to time," Lopez said, adding that Ivler would need another seven to 10 days in recuperation.

Ivler was returned to his prison room after yesterday's operations.

Meanwhile, the NBI was operating the illegal additional charges against Ivler's mother in connection with the shoot-out which left two of his agents wounded.

NBI Office of the Investigation (OIO) extension officer and head agent from Romaldo said that Melissa Aquilar might be charged as an accomplice in connection with the charges of direct assault, frustrated murder and attempted murder filed by the Bureau against her son.

"She (Melissa) aided her son in committing these acts against our agents," Romaldo said the bureau, claiming that Aquilar had not only called Ivler but also ordered him to bring his lawyer about the movements of members of the ruling team.

He explained that during the Jan. 18 raid on Aquilar's home in Quezon City which led to Ivler's capture, Aquilar had an on phone and was constantly on her cell phone.

Romaldo said Aquilar claimed the was calling her lawyer but the agents observed that she made no call.

"She also made her sister Ivler call her every one of us went near Ivler's falling point and called her how many agents were only allowed to that portion of her house," the NBI official said.

During the raid at 21 Malibon Drive, Blue Ridge 2 Subdivision in Lobo, Quezon City, Ivler and two other NBI officials, NBI-OIS special agent Ron Lapan and NBI Special Action Unit (SAU) chief and lawyer Angeles Magno, were wounded.

The National Capital Region of Police Office (NCRO) yesterday issued a warrant for the P100,000 reward to the informant who led NBI agents to Ivler.

During a Bag meeting yesterday at Camp Cagay (CIC), the nationalized informant received the money—part of the P1 million reward offered by the police for the arrest of Ivler, the suspect in the killing of former Vice President Juan Ponce Enrile Jr., the son of Undersecretary Renato Alano Jr., during a traffic stop on Jan. 25.

NCRO chief Director Romeo Rosales thanked the informant, saying his action "shows that members of the community can do a lot in helping law enforcement agencies like the Philippine National Police and NBI in capturing serious criminals and other individuals that are in hiding because of pending warrants for their arrest."

No dump filled with hazardous waste in Manila, says local exec

By Joaquin L. Andrade

AN OFFICIAL OF THE MANILA Bay government yesterday said that there is no dump in Pan 18 of the North Manila, contrary to the claim of local environmental group.

Under the law, the City Department of Public Works (DPW) chief, said the dumping of garbage in the area, which serves as a temporary waste site, was strictly prohibited.

He explained that garbage collected from households in the city are loaded onto trucks which go to Pan 18. From there, "garbage is directly collected from the trucks into the closed bag" which take their cargo to the various landfills.

Romaldo said that in July 2009, there was a jockeys of 1.6 million tons of garbage at Pan 18.

"Now, there is almost no stockpile of garbage there because the private contractor is not allowed to dump on the ground but in dump directly into the bays," he said, adding that allowing garbage to accumulate in the area would result in the contamination of the city government's economy with Local Water Management Inc.

In the same time, he pointed out that the disposal of a large amount of electronic and computer waste was prohibited by the city although there were instances of these types of waste materials ending up in the dump.

"The private contractor does not put up large loads of electronic waste and the bags do not allow them deposit but some of these materials are accumulated with the garbage and are overfilled," Romaldo explained.

In a recent statement, Southeast Manila in the government to move quickly to enter a "full-blown chemical and hazardous waste" dumpsite the stockpiling of hazardous waste at the dump.

The group said it found no signs of dumping, though the area is made of materials like bricks and concrete blocks, and other electrical and electronic items they could still, despite the chemical risks and hazardous waste, pose to people and the environment.

It added that it was to the Department of Environment and Natural Resources (DENR) on Friday to alert it to the dangerous activity the dump.

It also urged the DENR to work with police for the safe disposal of electronic waste in proper chemical safety and prevent environmental harm.

91-day treasury bill rate yield down to 3.897%

By Russell W. Donovos

THE YIELD ON THE 91-DAY treasury bill rate fell to 3.897 percent, an increase of 0.001 percent over the rate on the previous day.

This is an increase that they are now sharing uncertainty in anticipation of the Budget and Appropriations Committee's report on the budget.

Also, the Treasury is now uncertain about whether the budget deficit would be as large as the Treasury's estimate of $200 billion in 2009.

However, officials have said last year's deficit was likely to be around $200 billion, more than the $150 billion of 2008.

The Treasury's estimate of the deficit was $200 billion, more than the $150 billion of 2008.

"Marshall" sounds like good, but it's also one of the saddest records you'll ever hear. It was spent five in the north of what it seems to be just without a future in your own country. It sounds like a review of our collective life over the past year and the last 400 years before it. Listen to it and weep.

The song is performed by the character Gata, who she likes and Cat, the role created for Los Salinos during the 1980s.

Domestic production of mineral copper came from Baguio, which has been associated with "Cano" since the show's creation in 1981, came to the country in November for the launch of the Manila production. He was delighted, he said that the Filipino "Noli Me Tangere" was not bad at all.

Spillane says the pay "seems out of line." London, where he's based, where the production touched a long break, is where there's "a significant wage rise."
